Tutoring Experience

For the past 8 years, I've worked with students from around the world, guiding them through complex chemistry topics in both IB and A-Level curriculums. My teaching spans multiple exam boards, where I ensure students have a deep understanding of concepts like organic chemistry, thermodynamics, and analytical chemistry.

In addition to school-level tutoring, I also work with undergraduate students, assisting them with advanced chemistry topics. Through personalised support, I've helped numerous students enhance their problem-solving skills and prepare effectively for exams, enabling them to reach their academic goals.
